(rescheduled)

Seminar 12:00 p.m., DL 200, Loyola Campus

Reading History in Literature:

Speculation and Virtue in Our Mutual Friend

A text for discussion, drawn from Professor Poovey's work-in-progress on financial speculation and the figuration of women, is available from the Department on both campuses.

Public Lecture 8:30 p.m., H-762, SGW Campus

Domesticity and Class Formation: Chadwick's 1842 Sanitary Report

The lecture pursues Professor Poovey's interest in cultural studies of gender, class, and nationalism.

Mary Poovey is the author of two important recent books:

*The Proper Lady and the Woman Writer:
Ideology as Style in the Works of Mary Wollstonecraft,
Mary Shelley, and Jane Austen*

*Uneven Developments:
The Ideological Work of Gender in Mid-Victorian England*
